When your world's crash-ing down —

The first system of the score features a vocal line in treble clef and piano accompaniment in grand staff. The vocal line begins with a long note on 'When' that spans across the first two measures, marked with a slur. The piano accompaniment consists of a steady eighth-note pattern in the right hand and a bass line in the left hand. Chord changes are indicated above the staff: C, C/B, Am, and Am/G. The system concludes with a 'To Coda' symbol.

Dm C G

— and you can't bear — the thought, — I said, babe, you're not lost.

The second system continues the vocal line and piano accompaniment. The vocal line has a rest for 'and' and then continues with 'you can't bear the thought, I said, babe, you're not lost.' The piano accompaniment maintains its rhythmic pattern. Chord changes are marked as Dm, C, and G. The piano accompaniment ends with a double bar line and a repeat sign.

C G6 F Am7 G

The third system shows the piano accompaniment for the first two measures of a new section. The right hand plays a sequence of eighth notes, while the left hand provides a simple bass line. Chord changes are marked as C, G6, F, Am7, and G.
